BIRDS OF SPRING.

Ye birds of spring! warbling!
Sweetly call the flowers that yield
Such rare fragrance to the air,
While to fullness blowing;
Through the woods your carols ring,
In the glen and blooming field,
While you linger sweetly where
Silver rills are flowing.

Robin red-breast—bird of song,
Hasten from the Southern clime,
Hasten to the blossomed tree,—
Ours is the smiling land:
All the fields to thee belong,
And our skies are bright as thine;
Nests await,—and stored for thee
Dainty crumbs at hand.

Birds of spring—carolling!
Hasten with thy joyous song;
Break the reign of discontent
On the brow of beauty:
All the silver notes you sing
Linger in the heart so long,
Till the storm king's robes are rent
By the Queen of Beauty.

A CUP OF COLD WATER.

BY GRACE GREENWOOD.

Shortly after the close of the war, I travelled on the railway for some hours of a bright, June day, seated beside a young soldier, a cavalryman, from Wisconsin, who was on his way home, with an honorable discharge, after a service of four years.—My fellow traveller proved to be quite intelligent and sociably inclined, and beguiled the way by relating many incidents of the battle-field, and of camp, and hospital life. One of the simplest of his stories, told with an appearance of the utmost good faith, I have never forgotten — remembering distinctly every detail, while some of his more marvellous and tragical narrations have quite faded from my mind.

"Our regiment," he said, "was under Banks, in the spring of 1862, when he made such good time getting down the Shenandoah Valley. It was an awful driving, confused, exhausting, hurry skurry 'charge of bayonet,' but it's curious that I chiefly remember it by a little incident, which perhaps you will think was hardly worth laying up, and is hardly worth telling of."

I signified my desire to hear his little story, and he went on:

"I was one morning dispatched, in hot haste, to the extreme rear, with a very important order. As ill-luck would have it, I had to ride a strange horse, as my own had fallen lame. The one provided for me proved just the most ill-natured, vicious brute I ever mounted. I had hard work to mount him at all, for his furious rearing and plunging; and when, at last, I reached the saddle, he was so enraged, there was no getting him on for at least five minutes.—With his ugly head down, and his ears back, he would whirl round and round, pivoting on his fore-feet, and lashing out with his hind legs, till I fancy they must have looked like the spokes of a big wheel. When he found that I was master of the situation, that my hand warm, and my spurs were sharp, he gave in—till the next time; but I was on the alert, watching for a chance to fling me over his head and trample the mastership out of me.

"I rode hard that day, both because of my orders, and for the purpose of putting that devil of a horse through; but there were many obstructions in the road—marching columns, artillery, army wagons, and, above all, hosts of contrabands, who were always scrambling to get out of your way, just into your way: so it was noon before I had made half of my distance. It was a hot, sultry, and dusty day. I had exhausted my canteen, and was panting, almost lolling, like a dog. Just as my thirst was becoming quite unbearable, I came upon a group of soldiers, lounging by a wayside spring, drinking and filling their canteens. At first I thought I would dismount, as my horse seemed pretty well subdued and blowed; but no sooner did he guess my attention, than he began again his diabolical friskings and plungings, at which the stragglers about the spring set up a provoking laugh, which bro't my already hot blood up to the boiling point. Still, I didn't burst out at once. I swung off my canteen, and said to one of the men, the only fellow that hadn't laughed at my bout with the horse: 'Here, comrade, just fill this for me.'

"He was a tall, dark, heavy browed, surly-looking chap, but, for all that, I didn't look for such an answer as he growled out:

"'Fill your own canteen, and be ——— to you!'

"I tell you I was mad; the other fellows laughed again, and then I was madder, and I just says to him: 'You mean devil! I hope to God I shall get near you begging for a drink of water! If ever I do, I'll see you die, and go where you belong, before I'll give it to you.'

"Then I galloped on, though some of the men called to me to come back, saying they'd fill my canteen. I didn't stop till I reached a house, a mile or two further on, where a black boy watered both me and my horse, and filled my canteen, with a smile that the handful of new pennie I gave him couldn't begin to pay for. When I compared the conduct of this poor little chip of ebony, who said he 'never had no father, nor mother, nor no name but Pete,' with the treatment I had received from a white fellow-soldier, I found that drink of cold water hadn't cooled down my anger much. And for months and months after, whenever I thought of that affair, the old, mad feeling would come boiling up. The fellow's face always came out as clear before me as my own brother's, only it seemed to be more sharply cut into my memory.—I don't know why I resented this offence so bitterly. I have let bigger things of the sort pass, and soon forgotten them; but this stuck to me. I am not a revengeful fellow naturally, but I never gave up the hope of seeing that man again, and somehow paying him back for his brutal insolence.—There wasn't a camp or review I was in for the next two years but I looked for him, right and left. I never went over a field, after a battle, but that I searched for him among the dying—God forgive me! At last, my opportunity came.

"I had been wounded, and was in one of the Washington hospitals—almost well, yet still not quite fit for duty in the saddle. I hate, above all things, to be idle; so I begged for light employment as a hospital nurse, and they gave it to me, and said I did my duty well.

"I never felt for our poor, brave fellows as I did there. I had been very fortunate, and until that summer had never been in the hospital. Now I saw such suffering and such heroism as I had never seen on the battle-field. Compassion helped to keep up the spirits of those we could not save, to the last. Then it seemed hard that each brave boy must make his march down the dark valley alone. But the saddest sight of all was the poor, wild delirious ones, who, in their fever, fancied themselves on the battle-field, and called out to their comrades to charge, or to close up, or to fall back, or to bring them water. Oh, how many times I heard that last word! Water! water! water! Sometimes it was a low, moaning cry, sometimes a sharp, agonized shriek, but it was always the same.

"One day, I

THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT.

The work goes bravely on. New York has ratified the Constitutional Amendment to secure Manhood Suffrage, and twenty-one States now stand on the record as approving it:

1. Kansas,	12. North Carolina,
2. Louisiana,	13. Alabama,
3. Illinois,	14. Tennessee,
4. Michigan,	15. Florida,
5. Wisconsin,	16. Minnesota,
6. West Virginia,	17. Iowa,
7. Nevada,	18. Nebraska,
8. Maine,	19. Missouri,
9. South Carolina,	20. Massachusetts,
10. Arkansas,	21. New York.
11. Pennsylvania,

The victory in Connecticut has virtually settled the fate of the amendment, and that in the interest of Right and Justice. The battle was fought out squarely on the issue of Manhood Suffrage—the Republicans advocating and the Democracy opposing it. The result was a Republican triumph, with increased Republican majorities in both branches of the Legislature, and an assured ratification of the Amendment. The Rip Van Winkles of the Democracy, clinging to the dead issues of the past, will only wake up to the demands of the living issues of the present, when they find them irretrievably decided and embodied in the organic law of the Republic.

But seven more States are needed to make the Amendment part of the National Constitution. The following States are morally certain to ratify it before the close of the year:

Vermont,	Virginia,
Connecticut,	Mississippi,
New Hampshire,	Texas—7.
Rhode Island,

Leaving Georgia, Ohio, Indiana, California, Oregon and Florida to spare. Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky are the only States that can be counted certain against the Amendment. We may, therefore, reasonably calculate that in less than a year, Manhood Suffrage will be recognized throughout the Republic, and the vexed "negro" question be removed once and forever from the arena of politics. The demagogues in the Democratic party, whose stock in trade for long years has been the "nigger," will find their occupation gone, and will have to resort to some new expedient, where with to reach the prejudices of the ignorant masses.

The War for the suppression of the Slaveholder's Rebellion has been a wonderful educator, and it is marvelous how promptly and cheerfully the American people accept its logical results—the Democratic party to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE rejection of the Alabama Treaty, the recall of Reverdy Johnson, and the appointment of Mr. Motley as Minister to England, will re-open the negotiations on a new basis. Our Government will demand, as the basis of further negotiation, the admission by England of error in according to the Rebels belligerent rights, and of liability for damage sustained by us in the fitting out of the Alabama and other Rebel cruisers in British ports In the United States Senate, on Monday, the Chaplain, in opening the session with prayer, alluded to our relations with Great Britain, and asked the blessing of Almighty God upon both countries, and that no false step be taken which might lead to war. Mr. Chandler offered a resolution that, in the judgment of the Senate, the true solution of all the controversies existing between Great Britain and the United States will be found in the surrender of all the British possessions in North America to the people of the United States, and requesting the President to open negotiations, as soon as practicable, for the settlement of all matters in dispute on such basis. Mr. Chandler made a lengthy speech in support of his views, and upon the conclusion of his remarks the resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The comments of the London journals on the recall of Mr. Reverdy Johnson, show that Mr Motley is sure of a cordial welcome. There is a tinge of contempt in the final sentence accorded by the Times to Mr. Reverdy Johnson: "We shall lose a genial and indefatigable speech-maker, but shall gain in exchange a gentleman who will be understood on both sides of the ocean to say only what the great mass of his countrymen really mean." The general tone of the English press serves to indicate that a perception of the actual dimensions of the case in hand begins, though but slowly, to dawn upon their comprehension.

WE are glad to notice that President GRANT has made a rule to receive no calls on the Sabbath, and has forbidden his Secretaries to bring him any letters or telegrams, except they are on important public business, in answer to something he has called for.

In this connection, it may not be improper to give an incident that recently occurred in Washington equally creditable to Senator SCOTT, of Pennsylvania. One Sabbath morning, a member of the Senate sent Mr. SCOTT a package of papers with notice that he would call in the evening to confer on the subject matter. Calling according promise, the inquiry was made whether he had examined the papers sent to him. Senator SCOTT, who is a ruling elder in the Presbyterian Church, promptly replied that he had not—that he had been accustomed to observe the Christian Sabbath, and did not propose to look at them until Monday morning—as this was Sabbath evening he expected as usual to go to church. And to church he went.

DELAWARE, having been forced by Constitutional Amendments to give up Human Slavery, clings with dogged obstinacy to its other idols—the Whipping Post and Democracy. The semi annual legal barbarities commenced last week at Georgetown with the flogging of a colored man, named Joseph Goodfrey, convicted of petty larceny, who received twenty lashes. The disgusting exhibition will be repeated this week on a larger scale at the same place, and then it will work its way up through Kent to New Castle, where more backs will shrink beneath the cruel lash to the destruction of Manhood and the shame of the State.—When Delaware gives up Democracy, it will give up the Whipping Post.

BEFORE the adjournment of Congress, the House, by a decided vote, gave LEONARD MYERS (Republican) his seat as the Representative from the Third Pennsylvania district, ousting his opponent, who obtained his seat as the result of the gross frauds in Philadelphia at the October election.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature adjourned on Friday last, both houses closing up with the usual gift presentations and "mutual admiration" ceremonies. The press of the State is uniformly outspoken in its condemnation of the general action of the Legislature, and a general sense of relief is expressed at the adjournment as putting an end to improvident legislation. In the immense mass of local bills it is difficult to ascertain the status of the bills of a general character which were under consideration. One of the most important bills passed was a Registry Law applicable to the entire State. We have not seen its provisions, but presume it is sufficiently guarded and stringent to secure fair elections.

An act was passed changing the common law rules of evidence, so as to allow parties to testify in suits, notwithstanding they may have an interest in the result. It frequently happens that parties to the record or in interest are alone cognizant of facts bearing on the merits of the case, but under the present rules their lips are sealed. The new act allows their testimony to go to the jury, the latter passing on its credibility. We annex the full text of the bill:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That no interest nor policy of law shall exclude a party or person from being a witness in any civil proceeding; provided, this act shall not alter the law as now declared and practiced in the courts of this Commonwealth, so as to allow husband and wife to testify against each other, nor counsel to testify to the confidential communication of his client; and this act shall not apply to actions by or against executors, administrators, or guardians, nor where the assignor of the thing or contract in action may be dead, excepting in issues and inquiries de visavit vel non and others respecting the right of such deceased owner, between parties claiming such right by devolution on the death of such owner.

SEC. 2. That a party to the record of any civil proceeding in law or equity, or a person for whose immediate benefit such proceeding is prosecuted or defended, may be examined as if under cross examination at the instance of the adverse party of any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled in the same manner and subject to the same rules for examination as any other witness to testify; but the party calling for such examination shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut it by counter testimony.

SEC. 3. That the testimony of witnesses authorized by this act may be had by deposition or commission issued as the case may require, with such notice to the party to be examined and to the adverse party as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the rules of the proper court touching the taking of depositions and testimony on commission.

The act to further enlarge the jurisdiction of the courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth, relative to granting charters of incorporation and confirming those heretofore granted, passed finally.

The bill allowing parties to contract for the payment of interest at seven per cent. was defeated in the House—yeas 44, nays 46.

A supplement to the $300 exemption act was passed extending the exemption to life estates; also exempting Sewing Machines belonging to seamstresses from levy and sale.

A supplement to the militia Bill was passed, but we have not seen its provisions.

A bill was passed to prevent the publication of obscene advertisements or noxious medicines for sexual diseases or female irregularities.

HONORS TO THE HEROIC DEAD.

A year ago, under the direction of the Grand Army of the Republic, the graves of the Union Soldiers throughout the Union were strewn with flowers, with interesting ceremonies, which at the time attracted a good deal of attention. Gen. LOGAN, Commander-in-Chief of the organization, has issued Orders for a similar observance this year. We presume the Post in this place will take action in regard to the dead reposing in the National Cemetery. We annex Gen. Logan's order:

General Orders, No. 21.—I. The 30th day of May proximo—a day set apart by the Grand Army of the Republic to commemorate the glorious deeds of our departed comrades—will be observed throughout the United States in such manner as befits the solemnities of the occasion, and as will testify the undying love of a grateful people for the memory of those who died that the nation might live. This is the second public observance of the occasion, which it is trusted will recur year by year while their remains a heart loyal to the cause in which our comrades fell, and while the moving principle of that struggle is worth preserving. If no organization had no other object, that done of keeping green the resting places of our nation's defenders, by this annual ceremonial, would be motive enough to hold us together in a fraternal band. The Commander-in-Chief desires to thank those patriotic men and women who gave their aid and sympathy on a former occasion to make successful this National Memorial Day, and they are cordially invited to unite with the comrades of the Grand Army in the approaching ceremonies; and he thanks the loyal press everywhere, through whose generous aid a lasting record has been made of the observances one year ago. To the Congress of the United States, the comrades are especially indebted for authorizing the publication, in book form, of the proceedings of last May, and for the promise held out that each year a compilation will be made and published, as a national recognition of sympathy with these memorial observances.

II. It has been determined not to prescribe any form of ceremony for universal observance, but each Post, or any number of Posts, may arrange together such fitting services as circumstances will permit. Department Commanders will use every effort to perfect arrangements for the occasion. The newspaper Press are requested to give publication to this order.

III. Department and Post Commanders are specially enjoined to preserve and forward to these headquarters a copy of the proceedings (in printed form so far as possible) which take place in carrying out this order.

IV. As the 30th of May occurs on Sabbath, Posts are at liberty to observe either that day, or Saturday the 29th.

THE nomination of Ex-Gov. CURTIN as Minister to Russia, has been confirmed by the United States Senate. The appointment was due to Gov. Curtin's great services during the War—his unfaltering devotion to the Union—his personal fitness for the place, and his representative position as a leading Pennsylvania Republican. The President has made few appointments that will be more heartily endorsed by the mass of the Republican party. T. J. COFFEY, Esq., a prominent member of the Philadelphia bar and recently Assistant Attorney General of the U. States, goes out as Secretary of Legation.

MR. J. R. CLAY, the colored man nominated for minister to Liberia, telegraphed to the President declining the appointment. As the position is encumbered with a salary of $7,500, besides the compliment, Mr. Clay's declination is the more remarkable in these days of aspirations for official position. He is said to be very wealthy, with an income of $30,000 or $40,000 a year, and can afford to do without office.

The President has nominated F. E. Dumas, colored, also of Louisiana, for the position declined by Mr. Clay.

THE nomination of Mr. KITZMILLER as Postmaster at Gettysburg, has been confirmed by the United States Senate—also the nomination of Mr. SCULL as Assessor of this district.

ON Wednesday the President sent to the Senate a number of Quaker appointments as Indian Agents, including ISAAC G. TYSON, of Philadelphia, to the Winnebago Agency. Mr. T. is a brother of C. J. TYSON, of this county.

EX-GOV. THOMAS, of Allegheny county, has been nominated as Collector of the Fourth District of Maryland, and HENRY W. DELLINGER, of Washington county, as Assessor.

JOHN YOUNGMAN, Editor of the Sunbury Gazette, was renominated by Gov. Geary as superintendent of Public Printing, and unanimously confirmed by the Senate.

JUDGE SHELLABARGER, of Ohio, a distinguished member of the last Congress, has been appointed Minister Resident to Portugal.

STRANGE SUICIDE IN CHICAGO.—The Chicago Tribune of Tuesday says: "One of the most singular suicides that has ever been recorded took place in this city yesterday. The victim was Eugene L. Oatman, part proprietor of a saloon kept in the basement, corner of Clark and Madison streets. His mind was injured by drink, and he evinced symptoms of mental aberration. These symptoms culminated on Friday night, when he unsuccessfully attempted to poison himself with chloroform. Yesterday morning, however, Thomas Moore, Oatman's brother-in-law, opened the saloon, and, entering, found him dead. He lay in the middle of the large room, on two tables, placed close together, and directly beneath a double gas jet. From one of the jets hung a rubber tube, one end screwed on the jet and the tub wound round the gas pipe, so that the other dropped directly in his mouth. His head rested on a cigar box, and his coat was wrapped around the head as if to prevent the escape of the gas from the mouth. His limbs were composed. One leg lay a little to one side of the table, the right hand by his side, and left on his breast. The neck and bosom were bared. There evidently was no struggle, no convulsion for his aspect counteracted any such supposition, and had he moved much he must have fallen from the narrow table to the floor. When first found the body was warm, but no effort seemed to have been made to resuscitate him."

BARBARA FRITCHIE.—A native of Frederick, Md., writing to the Washington Star, says he has known the Fritchie family all his lifetime, and that Whittier's poem is true. He says: "Barbara Fritchie was a reality at the time referred to. When Jackson was passing through Frederick, of necessity he had to pass the house in which she lived, on West Patrick street, south side, next to Carrol Creek. As he and his troops passed her house, she appeared at the door window of her one storied house and waved the Stars and Stripes before their veritable faces. One of his men raised his gun towards her, and she cried 'Shoot! shoot!' still waving the flag. Jackson himself knocked his gun aside, and commanded him not to attempt any such thing; at the same time raising his hat in honor of the flag. A shout then went up from his own men, and they passed on. This is the gist of the story, which I have often heard in Frederick and never heard it contradicted by any one." Barbara is too much of a heroine for the disloyal of Frederick, so the ex-belle flood of last summer was made a pretext by the municipal authorities of Frederick for widening Carrol Creek, on whose bank her house stood. In this way her house is destroyed, and its site becomes the landing place of a bridge across the creek.

MURDER AT CUMBERLAND, MD.—On Monday afternoon last, a young man in the employ of the Harnden Express Company, named Jay Johnson, was killed on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Conductor Sheridan was attempting to eject a drunken miner named Duckworth from the train, when the latter drew a pistol and fired at the conductor, the ball from which missed its aim, but struck young Johnson, entering his right side and passing through both his lungs and heart. The unfortunate man, strange to say, survived for about an hour. The shooting occurred about three miles west of Cumberland, and the express car at once returned to the city, where the remains of the deceased were taken in charge by his brother, and removed to his former home in Wellsburg, West Va. Duckworth was at once arrested, and placed in jail at Cumberland. Much excitement prevailed, and it was feared that the murderer would be lynched by the citizens. Johnson was aged about 25 years, was unmarried, and was much esteemed by the Company.

THE Shippensburg Valley Sentinel says "a young blood residing not many miles from this place, was the victim of rather a good joke on Sunday night recently. He was trying to be particularly 'sweet' to a young lady, and had paid her a number of visits at the residence of her parents. The old folks had somehow got an idea into their heads that the child ought to be more too young to 'keep company,' and conveyed the desired hint by calling the girl out of the room and sending her to bed at nine o'clock. The lady of the house astonished the young beau by bringing into the parlor a huge piece of bread and butter, nicely spread with sugar, which she presented to him, saying in her blandest manner, 'There, Bobby, take this and run home to your mother; it's time little boys were in bed.' The would be gay young beau hasn't felt as though he wanted any more 'sweetness' from that source since."

TERRIBLE SAW MILL ACCIDENT.—On the 10th instant, while George Devaul, of Nelson, New Hampshire, was engaged in his circular saw mill, in sawing logs into boards, a slab fell down in such a manner as to stick up over the saw. Mr. Devaul stepped upon the carriage, as it was running back, to remove the slab, and in trying to kick it away his heel was caught by the saw and he was instantly drawn over upon the saw and literally cut to pieces. Both heels were sawn off, his left leg was sawn off, his left hip and his spinal column were sawn in two and one arm was sawn off. No vital part was reached and he lived until he bled to death—about ten minutes.

A WASHINGTON despatch says that the report in circulation that there is any determination or probability of Congress being called together by the President upon an emergency that may arise in reference to Cuba is without the least foundation in fact, and it is looked upon there as a stockjobbing canard set afloat to effect the price of gold. No orders have been issued by the Navy Department to fit out any vessels having in view the Cuban situation.

MRS. Dolly Chandler and 194 other women have sent a remonstrance to the Massachusetts Legislature against women suffrage. They claim that it would impair the purity, the dignity, and the moral influence of woman, and bring into the family circle a dangerous element of discord, without securing additional strength, efficiency, or wisdom to the Government of the nation, and ask to be let alone in the condition allotted to woman by nature, by custom and religion. Dolly is a woman of sense.

A DELEGATION of the Society of Friends visited the President on Monday, and had an interview of half an hour upon the subject of moral reformation at the South. It is proposed by them to appoint a Superintendent of the Quaker interests at the South, whose duty it shall be to visit the members of the sect in all the Southern States, and endeavor to work some improvement in the condition of the people there. The President received them very cordially.

THE Cumberland Alleganian says a lad named Hughes, employed as a driver at the Eckhart mines, came to a sudden and terrible death the latter part of last week.—While riding his horse outside the mine the animal from some cause took fright, and the boy becoming entangled in the gears was dragged and trampled to death. Our informant states that his remains were literally an indistinguishable mass.

A MERCHANT of Canneiton, Ind., Dunlevy by name, got into a quarrel with another citizen of the place. They drew knives, and fought until both fell to the ground, Dunlevy dead and the other fatally wounded. A crowd gathered around, and the fight became general. Knives and pistols were freely used, and three more severely, probably fatally, wounded. On the next day Dunlevy's opponent died.

RICH DEVELOPMENT OF PETTY PILFERING.—For a long time past a gentleman well known in this city—a man of means, of culture, of refinement—has been in the habit of pilfering various small articles from one of the largest and best-patronized of our wholesale and retail grocery stores. The firm, though fully aware of the thefts, bore with them, hardly knowing what course, under the circumstances, to pursue. At length, however, patience at an end, they brought the matter to a termination on Saturday last by having the gentlemanly thief arrested in the street. He was conducted back to the store, and there compelled to discharge the articles he had but a few minutes previously stolen. These consisted of a box of cigars and divers other trivial things, such as he had been accustomed to take. He then offered to pay a sum of money equivalent to the value of the articles he had stolen for two years past, on condition of being let up softly. The firm accepted the proposition, when he paid $500. The matter is now amicably settled, and all parties satisfied. The kleptomaniac is a member of a large and celebrated political organization in this city, besides being connected with several societies.—Through the influence of certain well known politicians, his last friends, he lately received an appointment from President Grant, as Consul to one of the European ports. It is understood that since the disclosure of his "peculiarity," his appointment will be withdrawn, and his resignation sent in to the organizations of which he is a member. Such things will happen sometimes.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A LOVER IN A CLOSET.—A short time since a very enterprising young merchant of Lancaster city, Pa., who is the happy possessor of a wife as beautiful as the heart could desire, had occasion to visit New York. He was gone but a short time, and returned sooner than was expected. Reaching home at an hour when the gray of the morning was mingled with the shades of night, he, of course found the family all in bed. Proceeding directly to his wife's apartment, he rapped for admission, at the same time announcing who he was. At the mention of his name he thought he detected a smothered exclamation of surprise; and then a sage one got hurriedly from the bed and sought refuge in a closet adjoining his bed room. All this he heard distinctly, as he waited in the cold, with the demon of jealousy tugging away at his heart. There was some one in his wife's room. There could be no doubt of that; and that some one had sought refuge in the closet was equally clear. Who else could it be than a lover? Mad with jealousy, furious and indignant, he could scarcely wait for the door to be opened, when he burst into the room and made for the closet. His wife interfered, and begged that he shouldn't open the door concealing his disturber of domestic peace. He dashed her aside furiously, but she clung to the tails of his coat. The strain made upon those useful appendages at last compelled them to give away, and the angry benedict threw wide open the door of the closet; and lo! instead of the cunning libertine, his astonished eyes rested upon one of the prettiest girls imaginable. She was passing the night with his wife; and trying to avoid meeting him in dishabille, brought about a rather embarrassing denouement. The gentleman, however, it may be as well to state, prosecuted his search no futher, and, instead, made a hasty retreat.—Columbia Spy.

A MYSTERY TO BE EXPLAINED.—A Philadelphia paper says: The hydrocyanic acid with which Twitchell destroyed his life, was not the acid of the drug stores. Dr. Weir Mitchell informs us concerning it.—The acid prepared for medical use, as prescribed by the faculty, is diluted with nine parts of water. Of the acid of Scheele's strength, as found in the cell of Twitchell, one drop requires ninety-nine parts of water to reduce it to the standard of the acid used in pharmacy. Of the latter a tablespoonful would have answered all the purposes required of it by the suicide. It might have been obtained with comparative ease by any plausible person, convincing a druggist that he wanted it for special purposes. But this Scheele's acid is used to so limited an extent that the apothecaries do not keep it. It is a poison that no private person would prepare. The apparatus in which to produce it, is extensive, and the fumes evolved in its various stages of manufacture are highly noxious, if not deadly. That the poison was not furnished from any retail drug store may be set down as certain. If the bottle found in Twitchell's cell was full when he got it, he drank enough of the poison to send him to the other world with scarce less celerity than if he had been blown from a cannon's mouth. Where the Scheele acid was obtained by the person who smuggled it into the cell of Twitchell, is a question as puzzling as any other connected with the romance.

A LOVE TRAGEDY.—Grand Gulf, Miss., last week was the scene of one of those tragedies of passion that appear more like romance than reality. A young man named Cushing loved a Miss Andrews, pressed his suit, and was refused. On Sunday last he rode to her residence, and without alighting begged to see her. When she appeared he shot her dead. He then rode frantically away, but was pursued by his victim's brother, breathing vengeance against him. Andrews overtook Cushing as he was crossing a creek, and fired at him. Cushing jumped from his horse and took shelter in the bush. Andrews, not to be at a disadvantage, did the same. A parley ensued, and the two young men agreed to fight according to the code; to leave the cover, fire, advance and fire, and again advance, firing until one of them should fall. At the first fire Cushing received a mortal wound in the left shoulder, but the men continued to near each other and fire until their revolvers were empty. When assistance arrived, Cushing lay dead with four bullets in his body. Andrews had received three shots in his breast. He was able to tell how the fight had taken place, when he also expired.

THEODORE TILTON, of the N. York Independent, was recently in Harrisburg, and while there curiosity prompted him to look upon that distinguished body of Solons composing the Pennsylvania Legislature. In his paper last week he gives the result of his observations, which is not very complimentary to the representatives of the Keystone State. The House he describes as a perfect Babel, and such an incessant buzz and uproar he had never seen in any deliberative body. The appearance of the members did not impress him favorably, the look of inferiority which a large majority wore on their faces being a striking feature. Mr. Tilton says he would not for a moment insinuate that the Pennsylvania Legislature is corrupt, but it is the most suspicious looking body he ever saw.

THE prize fighters of the country are beginning to recognize the doctrines of the social equality of all men in single combat. The pugilist Barney Aaron has issued a challenge to fight any man in the world, black or white, at 190 pounds, for $1,500 a side. There have been prize fights in England between white men and negroes, as in the case of Molineaux; but this challenge opens up the first prospect, so far as we know, of such an event in this country.

THE Copperheads have given up President Grant as a hopeless case, and have abandoned all hopes of Jeanscoining the great soldier. His Radicalism is something that they cannot comprehend, and they accordingly are howling in chorus over a ruined country and a violent constitution.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CUMBERLAND.—A fire broke out in Shippensburg, on Saturday night, resulting in the destruction of considerable property. It originated in the stable of Dr. Stewart, which communicated to the Sherman House stable, both of which were entirely destroyed. The Cumberland Valley Railroad depot, adjoining the latter stable, took fire and was mostly destroyed. The News printing office, located in the second story of this building was much damaged in presses and material. The Sentinel printing office was burned in the upper stories. The total loss will probably amount to $15,000, fully insured. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, as it broke out in a hay mow of Dr. Stewart's stable.—A house belonging to C. Long, near Shippensburg and several stables in that town, were destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon last.—On last Friday night an attempt was made to burglariously enter the jewelry store of G. W. Landis, at Newville. The villian would have been successful, had it not been that Geo. Hollinger, an employee of Mr. Landis, fortunately slept in the store. Mr. H., awakened by the burglar removing the transom from above the door, awaited, with revolver in hand, until half his body was inside the door, when he fired, but the revolver did not explode, and before another could be made, the robber finding his situation unhealthy, made tracks.

FRANKLIN.—On Monday afternoon last three young men, Frank Spitle, John Harmony and Frederick Fennel, left Chambersburg for the purpose of shooting game. In consequence of some quarrel, Fennel left the party at McClure's farm. Spitle and Harmony went on, and about 5 o'clock, some persons in the neighborhood were called by Harmony, who said he had shot Spitle. Spitle was found dead, with a gun shot wound in his left lung. Harmony was too drunk to tell how it occurred, a bottle half full of whiskey being found beside the body. It is supposed to have been the result of accident, Harmony, although very drunk, seeming to be in great mental agony. Harmony is in jail. Spitle was a hard working young man, and to a great extent the support of his mother's family. Another terrible warning against intemperance.—Ephraim Shank has been appointed Postmaster at Mount Alto, and H. Young at Brown's Mills.

FREDERICK.—The Maryland Classis of the Reformed Church will convene in Frederick on Thursday evening, April 29.

FULTON.—A man named W. L. Valen tine was assaulted on the highway, near McConnelsburg, on Friday night, dragged from his horse and robbed of $450.

WASHINGTON.—Wm. Logan has been appointed Postmaster at Hagerstown.—The extension of the Cumberland Valley Railroad from Hagerstown to Williamsport has been abandoned for the present.

YORK.—Samuel Wampler, aged 65 years, died suddenly in Hanover on Saturday; he had been afflicted with dropsy.

SPECIAL HONOR TO JEFFERSON DAVIS IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, in the course of a description of a visit to the gallery of the House of Commons, gives this glimpse of Mr. Davis:

"While I am standing in this group, eagerly watching the police sergeant, who will presently call the names of the privileged few, I hear:

"'Isn't this Mr. Davis?'

"I turn round, and right behind me stands Jefferson Davis. But pounds! what a change in mortal man! I would scarcely have known him. And can it be possible, I mused, that this shrivelled faced, thin robed, shrunken limbed, slouchy old man is the eloquent and commanding Senator from Mississippi, the prompt, resolute and courtly Secretary of War that was really President when Franklin Pierce was ostensibly? I tell you the truth. A feeling of pity stole all over me. I was touched, and there is no knowing what my impulse of tender magnanimity to our fallen foe would have driven me to do and say if it had not met, in the impulse of the man who put the question I have quoted, that obsequious sycophancy towards the slaveholder's rebellion which for these ten years past has been the prominent characteristic of anti-slavery England. Mr. Davis quickly replied, 'That is my name, sir.'

"'What, Jefferson Davis?'

"'Yes sir. May I ask your name, sir?'

"'Harris; but I am not only sympathize with you; I have often wanted to see you; I have your picture hanging up in my house, and prize it very highly.'

"This was said in an agitated, fervent way, while hands were shaken, and then Mr. Harris, who was a gray haired, well-to-do looking gentleman, put his mouth close to Mr. Davis' ear and whispered what I did not hear, but what I could not but imagine was, 'England was with you, and if you could have held out another year, we would have joined France in recognizing your Government.'

Mr. Davis smiled feebly, and, I thought, sadly. His name was called, and in he went. I followed immediately, and saw him met by one of the House attaches, the gentleman in black sword breeches and shad belly coat, with a silk sunflower on its back, who absolutely bent double (I am not exaggerating) at the approach of Mr. D., and went dancing and fiqshed and smiling before him, whispering to everybody, 'This is Mr. Jefferson Davis,' and ushered him to a sort of pew there is for specially favored strangers on the floor of the House, deep in a recess, and where Mr. Davis sat down with Archbishop Manning and Dean Stanley."

FOREIGN.—The debate on the second reading of the Irish Church bill was resumed in the British House of Commons on Friday evening. Mr. Disraeli moved to omit the section dissolving the legal union between the Churches of England and Ireland, and that the latter shall cease to be the established by law. In the debate that followed Mr. Disraeli admitted that his object was to aim a mortal blow at the bill. Mr. Gladstone responded against the motion, and on a division the amendment was rejected by a vote of 221 to 244, the Ministry thus being sustained by 123 majority. The result was greeted by the Liberals with tremendous cheers.

M. Thiers has been driving the French Corps de Legislatiff wild with excitement by telling it the truth. In the course of a debate with the President, M. Theirs declared that the canonical liberty of France was like its political liberties, a farce. The excitement came near terminating the session, but was finally subdued.

Spain is pushing forward the building of gunboats for service in the Cuban waters. It is expected that they will be completed and ready for service by the end of June. Differences have arisen in the Cabinet, and the resignation of several Ministers is expected. General Prim, Serrano and Olzaco are spoken of as likely to form a new Directory. Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia and the Duke of Luxembourgh are named as probable candidates for the throne.

A WARNING TO BOYS.—In Harrisburg, on Friday evening last, a boat black named Erastus Dean, a lad of about twelve years, jumped on a train of coal cars which was passing from the Lebanon Valley road to the track of the Pennsylvania railroad, and rode a short distance when his feet slipped, and losing his hold fell with both of his legs under the train, and a number of the cars passed over them, crushing and almost severing them below the knees. The unfortunate lad was conveyed to his home and the limbs amputated.

LIGHTING STREETS BY ELECTRICITY.—A Mr. Wheeler proposes a plan for lighting the streets of New York by electricity.—His method is similar to that in operation in the dome of the Capital and the Halls of Congress at Washington, Mr. Stewart's new store, and the picture gallery of his new house, on Fifth avenue. He claims that the whole expense of laying wires, erecting the batteries and lighting the city, will be saved and paid for in a few years, at the present cost of simply lighting the lamps. He estimates that, in 20 years, the saving to the city will be $1,000,000. By the proposed arrangement, if any lamp should be extinguished accidentally, it will immediately relight itself. In addition to the proposed electrical lighting the wires can be used for telegraphic purposes, and a complete system of telegraphic communication with every part of the city can be arranged. The subject has been referred to a committee of Aldermen.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.—There will not be a day in the year on which you will not be able to find at Oak Hall an elegant and large assortment of fine ready-made Clothing. But now is the time to make your purchases; the season is just opening and the shelves and tables are fairly groaning under the weight of the Spring and Summer Stock. You will have a wider range of choice; get the goods while they fresh and add vastly to your own comfort by changing your clothing with the season. Then stand not on the order of your going, but go at once.

Gettysburg, Friday, April 23, 1869.

☞WM. H. METZ, of Hamiltonban township, recently felled a chestnut tree, which gave seven rails cuts of 7 feet each, yielding 42 Rails.

RAIN.—On Tuesday afternoon and night a heavy rain passed over this section, which will be of great service to growing grain and vegetation generally.

☞Mr. Elijah Harman, of Mountpleasant township, whose barn was recently burned, had a partial insurance in the Mountmasburg Company.

SURVEY.—The Survey of the Gettysburg Battlefield has been resumed by Lieut. CRAIG, with his corps of engineers. It will require several months to complete the Survey.

☞The improvements on the outskirts of the town have induced the Gettysburg Water Company to extend their pipes out Carlisle street as far as Stevens Hall, and down York street to Christian Benner's.

HANOVER.—WM. F. STAIR has been appointed Postmaster at Hanover. Mr. STAIR held the position under President Lincoln, but was turned out because of his unwillingness to endorse Johnson's betrayal of the Republican party.

NEW CARS.—The new Cars recently purchased by the Hanover Branch Railroad Company for use on that road and the Gettysburg Railroad, have been put on the road. They are large, comfortable and elegantly gotten up cars, and will be appreciated by the travelling public.

ADVERTISING.—Our enterprising, active business men are now advertising their spring and summer goods. Purchasers should read the advertisements and buy intelligently; you thus will buy from the most liberal and enterprising business men.

SALES.—John Leathery has sold his property in Latimore township, 9 acres with improvements, to Jesse Leas, Esq., for $2350 cash.

Hon. Moses McClean has sold his farm a short dis ance north of town, 162 Acres, to James J. Wills, Esq., of this place, for $8,000 cash.

ACCIDENT—Yesterday morning Mr. CHARLES COMFORT, in the employ of Mr. WM. CRITTENMAN, while sawing out some walnut lumber with the circular saw, had the end of his left thumb sawed off, including part of the nail. While guiding the material close to the saw, his hand slipped, bringing the thumb in contact with the saw.

CURIOUS.—We have been informed that on the farm of DANIEL METZ, in Hamiltonban township, a White Pine tree started a number of years ago in the forks of a dead cherry tree, about 8 feet from the ground. The pine has developed to a tree of about 10 inches in diameter and 5 feet high, and is still in vigorous growth.

JUSTICES' COMMISSIONS.—The Commissions for Justices of the Peace elected in March, have been received by Mr. HOLTZWORTH, the Register and Recorder, and are now ready for delivery. As the old Commissions have expired, it will be necessary for Justices who were re-elected to lit their Commissions and qualify anew before doing business.

MAIL LETTINGS.—Among the recent mail letings by the Post office Department we notice the following:

York to Dillsburg, Jacob Menear, $369.

York Springs to Wenks, James Cully, $208.

Mechanicsburg to Etters, Nicholas Allen, $450.

Taneytown to Harney, John Jones, $138.95.

THE VELOCIPEDE.—The Velocipede School in Agricultural Hall has excited a good deal of interest by reason of the novelty. A good deal of fun has been occasioned from day to day by the mishaps of awkward experiments, but a number of our young men have made creditable progress and bid fair to become good velocipedists. On Saturday evening, there will be a contest for a silver cup to be given to the fastest rider.

SPARE THE BIRDS.—Many thoughtless persons, especially boys, while gunning, are in the habit of shooting robins, bluebirds, &c., forgetting that it is forbidden by law. The Act of March 31, 1868, imposes a penalty of $25 for the killing of any insectivorous bird, one-half the fine to be paid to the informer. The birds classed under the head of insectivorous birds are robins, martins, swallows, blue birds, woodpeckers, &c., in fact all the small birds generally seen in this latitude.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.—We hope our citizens will not forget the Entertainment to be given at Agricultural Hall, on next Monday evening, by Miss MCCLELLAN'S Select Scho l. It will consist of Readings, Recitations, Dialogues, and Tableaux, and will no doubt be a very credita ble and interesting entertainment, and is deserving of the encouragement and support of our citizens. Let all turn out. Doors open at 7 o'clock and exercises to commence at 7½ P. M. The music will be under the direction of Miss Eva Danner.

DEAD.—Our obituary columns record the death of MR. HIRAM MICKLEY, of this place, on Saturday last. Mr. M. was a practical Printer, having served an apprenticeship in the "Sentinel" office, under the senior editor of this paper. In the fall of 1864, he volunteered as a private in Co. G. 209th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and served to the end of War, when he was honorable discharged with the Regiment.

He was a young man of generous disposition, with many estimable traits of character, and had many warm personal friends. Last fall he took a severe cold which rapidly developed into consumption. During his protracted illness, he was lead by the grace of God to realize the need of a Saviour, and died rejoicing in the prospect of a joyful translation from a world of sin and trouble to one of glory and enduring rest. His remains were interred in Evergreen Cemetery on Sabbath afternoon, attended by a large number of relatives and friends, and by the members of the Gettysburg Post, G. A. R., of which association he was a member.

AURORA BOREALIS.—On Thursday night of last week there was a very brilliant display of auroral lights. The working of the telegraphic wires during the day indicated an unusual quantity of electricity in the atmosphere. As soon as the shades of evening set in, the auroral flames developed themselves, lighting up the northern heavens, changing in hue and brilliancy, from time to time, until about 11 o'clock, when the display reached a remarkable extent and grandeur.—White sheets of waving light flamed up from all points of the horizon, with long, ribbon like streamers, meeting at a point a few degrees south of the zenith, forming a corona and presenting a grand but indescribable effect. The streams and waves of light changed rapidly in form, color and position, the flashes appearing in quick succession.

This remarkable auroral display seems to have been noticed in all parts of the country, telegrams from the North, South, East and West referring to it. In some places the telegraphic wires were operated without the use of batteries, thus proving that the auroral with lights are intimately connected electrical agencies.

CUMBERLAND TOWNSHIP.—Among the local acts passed by the Legislature, near the close of the session, was one authorizing and requiring the School Board of Cumberland township to levy and collect an additional tax to pay bounty debt of said township. It will be recollected that pending the last draft, Cumberland township, through a Committee appointed by the citizens, put in a sufficient number of volunteers to avoid the draft, but were required to pay bounties in excess of the amount authorized by law to be raised by taxation. As the money had to be supplied at once, the amount was borrowed from Bank, twelve citizens of the township endorsing the notes. It was expected to raise the surplus over and about what would be realized from taxation, from private subscription. These subscriptions failed, and the endorsers of the notes became liable to the Bank for the surplus. The accounts were complicated by disputed claims. Auditors were appointed by Court to audit the accounts, who rejected about $3,000, and found the balance of the legitimate bounty debt, excluding these $3,000, to be $7,038. The Act passed by the Legislature is intended to indemnify the endorsers to that amount. On the one hand the passage of the act has been urged as an act of simple justice to the endorsers, who, in a time of popular excitement, stepped forward and gave their names on which to raise the funds, without any direct personal interest; while on the other it has been resisted, as a debt contracted without authority of law, and for which the tax-payers of the township should not be held responsible. We content ourselves with simply stating the facts, as we understand them. The following is the text of the Act:

WHEREAS, The citizens of Cumberland township, in the county of Adams, during the late war, incurred a bounty debt, of which a balance $7,038, as ascertained by the proper auditors, yet remains unpaid said debt being made by paying bounties in excess of the amount authorized by law to volunteers to fill quotas of said township;

AND WHEREAS, Said bounty debt exists in the shape of a certain promissory note or notes now in the National Bank of Gettysburg, and payable to, due and owing said bank, by Abraham Plank, Abraham Spangler, C. B. Polly, David Shriver, Francis Bream, John Socks, John N. Hoffman, Levi M. Plank, W. E. Myers, Dr. Dougherty, Lewis A. Bushman, and Jesse Milheimes, as drawers or endorsers of the same: Therefore, be it enacted &c., That the school directors of Cumberland township, in the county of Adams, are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect in excess of the amount now allowed by law, in the manner provided for levying and collecting of county taxes under existing laws, a county tax sufficient in amount to pay the indebtedness of said township, amounting to $7038, incurred in paying bounties to volunteers to fill quotas.

Section 2 That the said school directors of Cumberland township are hereby empowered to cause to be assessed and collected said amount of taxes, and to proceed, after having collected the same, to pay said promissory notes with interest, as mentioned in the preamble to this bill, signed by Abraham Plank, Abraham Spangler, C. B. Polly, David Shriver, Francis Bream, John Socks, John N. Hoffman, Levi M. Plank, W. E. Myers, Dr. Dougherty, Lewis A. Bushman, and Jesse Milheimes, some of them as endorsers and others as drawers, due and owing said National Bank of Gettysburg.

BORDER DAMAGES.—Last week, we gave a summary of the aggregate of damages claimed and allowed by the Damage Commissioners in the several counties. A correspondent of the Beaver Radical furnishes some additional details, which we annex:

Adams county—Damages by Union troops to real property, $44,828 20; to personal, $35,982 41. Damages by rebels to real, $117,670 87; to personal, $352,378 00.—Total amount claimed, $552,383 97; allowed, $507,797 37.

The total amount claimed in these counties is $1,821,031 44, and the amount allowed $1,093,351 52.

ADDITIONAL MAIL SERVICE PROPOSED.—Sundry petitions have recently been presented to the Post Office Department, for the establishment of a daily mail between York Springs and Mechanicsburg, continuing the tri-weekly from York Springs to Gettysburg. The Department have declined the application for the reasons given in their letter:

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
CONTRACT OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, April 13th 1869.

SIR—Your letter of the 10th inst., accompanying petitions for six times a week service on part of Route 2192, Mechanicsburg to York Sulphur Springs, is received.

The offices are:

Shepherdstown	$120	per annum
Dillsburg	180	" "
Clearspring	36	" "
York Sulphur Spring	36	" "

After the 1st of July, Dillsburg will also be the terminus of a three times a week route from York.

York Sulphur Springs is on a three times a week route from Oxford, a once a week route from York, and a six times a week route from Carlisle.

To increase the service on Route 2192 would involve the Department in an increased expense of $264 per annum, and it is thought, in view of the large expenditure upon the other routes leading to these offices, that the Department would not be justified in incurring this additional expense.

Respectfully your obedient servant,
GILES A. SMITH,
Second Assist. P. M. General.

HON. EDWARD MCPHERSON,
Clerk House of Representatives.

PROF. BENTZ.—We find the following tribute to Prof. BENTZ, of York, in the last True Democrat. Prof. B. is well known in this place. Having the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him, we heartily endorse all that the True Democrat says:

William Knabe & Co., manufacturers of grand, square and upright piano fortes, in Baltimore, Md., have appointed Prof. Peter Bentz, of this Borough, their sole agent for the sale of these instruments, in the counties of York and Adams. The reputation which Prof. Bentz has established for himself in this community as a gentleman of unblemished character and integrity, his experience in the business and his knowledge of the profession of music in all its dedtails, make this a most suitable appointment, and will, we are satisfied, prove not only profitable to the parties interested, but to our people also. Prof. Bentz has been for over twenty years in the music business, is a master of the science, and one of the most reliable of men. All the instruments selected by him can be decended upon as the best, and none leave the establishment that are not warranted for five years. We would advise all persons who desire to purchase a piano, guaranteed to first class, to call on him.

NEW ASSESSOR.—The President has sent to the Senate the name of EDWARD SCULL, of Somerset, as Assessor of the 16th district, to succeed WM. MCSHERRY, Esq. Mr. Scull is editor of the Somerset Herald, is a working Republican, and will make an acceptable officer. He held the office of Collector under President Lincoln, but was removed by Johnson because he would not endorse "my policy." Grant very rightly puts him back into official position.

Mr. ASHCOM, of Bedford, the present Collector of the district, is a tried Republican, a trusty, efficient officer, and will not be removed.

Assessor Scull will of course have the appointment of the Assistant Assessors throughout the district, and will appoint Republicans in place of the present Democratic incumbents. There are at present four districts in Adams county, with quite a number of applicants in each. We annex a list of the applicants as far as brought to our knowledge:

1st District.—John F. McCreary, Jacob Aughinbaugh, John M. Krauth, all of Gettysburg.

2nd District.—Cyrus G. Beals, D. H. Markley, and Mr. Brenneman, all of York Springs.

3rd District.—Charles G. Miller, Mountpleasant; Wm. King, New Oxford; J. H. Letterer, Littlestown; John Busby, New Oxford; John Spangler, Littlestown; J. H. Flickinger, Abbottstown.

4th District.—Wm. S. Cort, Menallen; Rev. J. M. Mickley, Franklin; Dr. R. B. Elderdice, Franklin.

All these are good men and true, and we are only sorry that they cannot all obtain the positions. But as there can be but four appointed, at best, a majority of them must be disappointed. Besides, it is possible that the districts may be re-arranged and reduced to three, if not to two—thus lessening the chances of success.

IMPORTANT TO CIGAR DEALERS.—The internal revenue law of July 20th, 1868, provides that on and after the first day of April 1869, all cigars shall be packed in boxes, not before used, counting respectively 25, 50, 100, 250 and 500, and shall be deemed and taken to have been manufactured or imported since July 20, 1868, and shall be restamped with tax-paid stamps. Every manufacturer of cigars shall burn into to the box, with a metal brand, his name, the number of cigars, number of his manufactory, district and State, and shall paste thereon a printed notice forbidding the use of the box or package again under penalty of $100 fine and imprisonment, and shall affix the stamp denoting that the tax has been paid.

Any person who shall sell or offer for sale any cigars in any other form than in new boxes, or who shall pack in any box any cigars in excess of the number provided by law to be put in each box, shall, upon conviction, be fined for each offence not less than $100, nor more than $1,000, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years. The fact that the cigars in the hands of dealers have on the boxes the red stamps, or any of the old stamps, denoting that the tax has been paid, will not answer. The box must have on it the new black tax paid stamp.

BUSINESS TACT.—H. T. HELMBOLD, druggist, 594 Broadway, New York, has built up an immense business, mainly by liberal, systematic and judicious advertising. A recent number of the Home Journal gives an interesting account of an interview with H. in regard to his advertising department, to which the proprietor gives per onal attention. He started business in Philadelphia some eighteen years ago with out capital, and invested the first $2 000 he made in advertising. Finding that it paid, he has continued to spend large amounts in advertising, his business increasing in the same proportion, until to day his establishment is one of the largest in New York city.—He advertises in 2,700 newspapers published in the United States. The immense amount of space paid in the aggregate may be guessed from the fact that he has paid from $1500 to $3 000 for a single advertisement. On one occasion he offered the New York Herald $5,000 for a page of that paper. And yet he has found it to pay, furnishing an example to live, wide wake business men. It wont do in these latter days for a man to put up his sign over his place of business and wait for customers to come and see it. He must send his "sign," by means of the newspaper, right into the dwellings and to the homes of those whose custom he wants, where it will be seen and read. HELMBOLD understands this, and every year spends a small fortune in sending his "sign" into every part of the United States.

RAILROADS.—In the Annual Report of the Auditor General of the State, we find the following items in regard to the Hanover Branch and Little-town roads. There is no report from the Gettysburg Railroad:

Hanover Branch.—Authorized capital, $500,000; no debt; dividend, 10 per cent a year; number of shares, 2,337; par value, $50; total cost of road and equipmen, $238,815.95; length of road, from Hanover to Junction with C. R. W., 12 miles; guage 4 ft. 8½ in.; weight of rail per yard, 50 lbs.; roads leased by this company, Gettysburg railroad and Littlestown rail road; number of engines, 5; passenger cars, 5; baggage cars, 1; eight wheel freight cars, 10; wooden bridges, 11; passengers, 34,841; tons carried, 85,647; speed per hour of passenger trains, including stops, 15 miles; of freight trains, 10 miles; weight of passenger engines, 19 to 26 tons; of freight engines 25 to 26 tons.

Littlestown Railroad.—Authorized capital, $76,000; number of shares, 695; par value, $50; no dividends; total cost of road $76,000; length of road, from Hanover to Littlestown, 7½ miles; guage 4 ft. 8½ in.; weight of rail per yard, 50 and 56 lbs.; wooden bridges, 3, total length, 120 feet; number of passengers, 5,400; tons carried, 13,176; speed of trains per hour, 20 miles. This road is worked by the Hanover Branch railroad.

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after Monday next, the first train will leave Gettysburg at 9 o'clock, A. M., connecting at Hanover Junction with trains to Baltimore, Harrisburg and Philadelphia; the second train will leave at 12,40 noon, connecting at Hanover Junction with fast line north and mail train south.

POOR HOUSE ACCOUNTS.—A correspondent, who has been examining the published Poor-house Accounts, draws our attention to the fact that the figures do not tally with the balance certified by the Auditors. The credit side does not foot up as much as claimed by $235. Either there is an omission of a voucher, or the Treasurer should be charged with that amount additional. Our figures were copied from the account as it appeared in the Compiler. We have not been able to lay our hands on the original account, and cannot say whether the discrepancy is due to error on the part of the Auditors or to a mistake on part of the Printer. Will those in authority look the matter up and enlighten us?

A FINE ESTABLISHMENT.—Our friend, Capt NORRIS, has fitted up his establishment in the diamond, (Arnold's corner,) and makes quite an attractive display of Goods. He has just returned from the City with a very large and select assortment of Ready-made Clothing, Hats and Caps, for Spring and Summer wear, selected with taste and which he is offering at prices hard to beat. NEW COOKING STOVE.—The attention of Housekeepers is invited to the EXCELSIOR PENN COOK STOVE, which has recently been brought into the market, and bids fair to throw all other Stoves into the shade. This Stove took the first premium at the State Fair held in Harrisburg last fall. Among its peculiar merits are the large Oven and Flues, and general simplicity, not being encumbered with unnecessary appendages, which in many stoves only enhance the cost without being of practical use. For beauty of design, quality of material, and general excellence, it cannot be excelled. The price is lower than any other first-class Cook Stove in market, and yet is warranted to cook and bake equal to the best. The Excelsior Penn Cook can be seen at the Wareroom of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, Gettysburg, who is the Agent for this place. Call and see it. tf

LUMBER.—The attention of Carpenters and Builders is invited to the extensive assortment of Lumber of all kinds to be found at the Lumber Yard of Col. C. H. EARLY OR LATE PLANTING OF CORN?

I believe that by early planting, say from the 4th to the 10th of May, the farmer is more certain of a good yield. I will admit that late planting will sometimes bring as good a crop as that which is planted earlier, but to do so it requires a very favorable season. I have known a good crop raised from seed planted as late as the 5th of June, but the season was very favorable, and the corn received no "backsets," and had nothing to do but grow. It seems that after the plant has reached a certain stage it is not materially injured by dry weather. All practical farmers know that if the ears are not well filled in August there will not be a large crop; after this the corn will harden, but will not increase in quanty or size.

Although as a general thing early planting is the best, yet on wet soils there will be little or nothing gained by it. It has always been my plan to plant early, and drop an extra grain in each hill. The number of grains required must depend on the care taken in the selection of the seed.—This is an item which some, even of our best farmers, are too careless about.

The plan which I pursue is as follows:—While cutting the corn, all the best and largest ears, are left standing, that they may get fully ripe. I always choose twice as many as I expect to use; when the corn is gathered the seed ears are husked and placed on the slats over the kitchen, where they remain until spring. Just before planting time they are sorted over, and those having the smallest cobs, in proportion to the length or depth of the grain, are selected for seed. The next operation is to shell three inches from the point and one inch from the butt, and use the remainder for seed.

This may seem to some to be too much trouble, rest assured that "it will pay," and that well.

Another great mistake is, to have too many stalks in the hill. On strong ground three or four stalks will produce more corn than five.

I have proved by actual experiment that corn raised from seed taken from the middle of the ear will ripen from two to three weeks sooner than that taken from either end! CORN-RAISER.

ASHES FOR WHEAT.

Ashes as a fertilizer are almost wholly neglected and allowed to go to waste by our farmers. In many instances indeed they seem to be ignorant of their value, or if not ignorant too careless to take the necessary pains to secure and use them. During the winter, ashes can be collected in large quantities, and farmers should do this for the purpose of sowing them on wheat soil. In my experience with ashes I have found them of great value on different grains, but most valuable when used on wheat. Ashes are an active fertilizer on wheat, and even five bushels per acre will push it forward two days ahead of that upon which none is applied. In some seasons, when hot and sultry weather prevails about the time wheat is ripening, a few days gained is worth half a crop of grain.

The ashes strengthen the wheat stem, giving it substance and solidity; and develops the berry quicker and better. Ashes are also a preventive against rust, and I have seen wheat upon which ashes were sown free from rust while that upon which none had been sown was rusted close to the drill row. Save your ashes and try the experiment next season. You will find it to pay you well to collect all the ashes you can get. Farmers can afford to pay as high as 20 cents per bushel for unleached, hard wood ashes for farm use, not only to put on wheat but on corn, oats and clover as well. I believe they are the cheapest manure that the farmer can buy, as potash enters largely into all the grain and grasses that are raised. Twenty bushels can be sown to an acre with the very best results. Leached ashes are also good though a larger quantity should be used. All around us large quantities both of leached and unleached ashes go to waste every year.—These should be returned to soil. Now is a good time to collect them and I would advise all farmers to do so and apply them to their fields.

LIME AROUND APPLE TREES.—We have known some farmers make it a regular practice for a succession of years to throw caustic lime around their apple trees in the spring and summer. We once noted that a tree standing in the immediate vicinity of our dwelling, had all at once put forth with renewed energy, and we were at a loss for some time to define the case. On examination, we found that a quantity of lime, which had accidentally been spilled, and rendered worthless by becoming mixed with the refuse on the stable floor, had been thrown at the foot and round the tree, and to this, as the principal cause, we immediately accredited the revivscence and renewed fructfication of the tree.

Taking the hint from accident, we purchased twelve casks of lime, and applied half a bushel to each of the trees in our orchard, and found that it produced immediate beneficial effects. Not the health of the trees only, but the quality of the fruit also was greatly improved. This application will be especially beneficial to soils where there is a redundancy of vegetable matter. We would advise our farmers, in some places, especially in new forest lands recently cleared, and on low lands, to make trial of this experiment, and see whether it is not deserving of the high recommendation given it.—Exc.

RINGBONE.—Dr. A. French, veterinary surgeon, alluding to ringbone, in the American Stock Journal, says:—"A notion has long prevailed that 'ringbone is fed by a bladder at the back of the pastern,' and this notion has led to a cruel operation in the treatment of this disease." He adds: "There is indeed a bladder there, called a 'bursal sac,' the design of which is to secrete a joint oil to lubricate the tendons, and to prevent the friction of surfaces; how barbarous then to destroy it. We should here caution our horse-breeders against using stallions that have the tendency to this, or any similar disease of the joints, bones or tendons."

FRANCIS STRODES, a noted breeder of improved Chester county swine, living near West Chester, recently held a public sale, at which a sow and pigs were sold for $100; another sow for $93; two hogs, a year old, for $87 and $64 respectively, a pig four months old for $36, and a boar pig for $51. A thorough bred Durham cow and calf were sold for $233; several other cows and calves at $150, $141 and $140; a calf three weeks old for $25 50; a yearling heifer for $75, and yearling bull for $82. Don't it pay to breed good stock?

PLANT FRUIT TREES.—Now is the time to set out fruit trees. Do this with an unsparing hand. Wherever there is a chance for one to grow, plant it, and urge it to do its best. Our country may be surfeited by some things, but never by fruit—that is always too scarce. While you are at it, plant good varieties; they require no more attention than the inferior sort. A lot without plenty of good fruit is litter better than a barren waste.

WHITEWASH is all right in its place—and it is in its place on fences and out buildings; but it is not in its place when it is on trees. Don't try to make the trunks of your trees look like fence posts.

A Word to the Wise!

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS!

Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!

THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our country, has been acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. C. RENNER'S surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have secured the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is no humbug, but by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver

Chemical Fertilizer

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED

In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufacture it for sale at $60 per ton without bags, or $65 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient animal matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture large supply this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial in all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold unless signed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.

All orders will be promptly attended to by ad dressing

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. During a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its wonderful character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, no one should be provided with this antidote for them

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them, under the Cherry Pectoral theory, speedily disappear. Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here. It is more than enough the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remitted Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is now to injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond belief, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the testimony we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies have wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through aguastic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

THE GREAT

Invigorator and Restorer

OF THE

Vitality of the Stomach.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Materials.

Pure Tonics and the most Pleasant Aromatics.

This invaluable Remedy for Dyspepsia and General Debility of the system is offered to the public, after a fair trial of its merits, with entire confidence that it will command their approval. It has been submitted, with the materials which compose it, to practising Physicians—among others to Dr. M. D. PFEIFFER, one of our oldest and most eminent citizens, residing at New Oxford, who, after examination, pronounced it a Remedy which would not fail to show its salutary effects, when properly administered, in cases of Dyspepsia, springing from old age and debilitating effects of serious inward diseases—weakening, and at last destroying the nervous power of the stomach itself—and therefore entitling it to be emphatically called "The Great Invigorator!"

Dr. W. J. MCCLURE, another prominent Physician of New Oxford, thus gives his opinion:

NEW OXFORD, Dec. 30, 1868.

Mr. JOHN BUSBEY.

Dear Sir:—At your request I have examined "The Great Invigorator," prepared by you, and the formula from which it is prepared. It is composed of some of the most powerful vegetable tonics and most pleasant aromatics known to our profession, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it in Chronic cases of Dyspepsia, and in all cases of Indigestion resulting from debility of the Stomach. Believing that, if properly used, it will be of incalculable benefit to the suffering of our race, I subscribe myself,

Yours, very respectfully,

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for useful uses by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a nasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but no harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil a white cambric, nor yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a graceful appearance.
